Message From The Chairman

Good afternoon everyone and welcome to Coronation Park for today's visit of Kimberley Miners Welfare.

I hope all associated with our visitors enjoy their afternoon here in Eastwood and have a safe trip back up the road after the game.

It's been a short period since my previous notes to you all, so there's not a whole lot to mention, but from what there is, it's certainly exciting!

The victory at Deeping last week was a delight, especially after being pegged back to 2-2 after being well ahead, before Steady and Surf popped up to seal the 4-2 win as we continue our excellent start to the season.

By the time you read this, we'll have hosted an Eastwood side that are in good form themselves thus far, so it'll be interesting to see just how we got on in that game, let's hope we've got something from it.

I'd also like to wish the Reserves all the best as they begin their season today at Sleetmoor United, go well lads, and bring something back to Belper with you!

That's all from me, so let's get out on that pitch and hopefully pick up another good result against a good side.

Enjoy the game!

Matt

Club History

A Belper United was established around 1908. By the early 1980s the club was playing in the East Midlands Regional League. This became the Midlands Regional Alliance in 1985, and Belper were its first Premier Division champions in 1985/86. They won the league's Challenge Cup in 1992/93, before securing a second Premier Division title in 1994/95 and another Challenge Cup the following season. They were later relegated to Division One, which they won in the 2004/05 season to earn promotion back to the Premier Division.

Despite finishing bottom of the Premier Division in 2008/09, Belper were not relegated to Division One. In 2010 they switched to the South Division of the Central Midlands League. In 2014/15 they won the Central Midlands League Floodlight Cup, beating Clay Cross Town 3-2 in the final. After finishing as runners-up in the South Division in 2015/16, the club were promoted to the East Midlands Counties League. In 2021 the club was moved sideways in to the United Counties League Division One. In 2022 the club won the play-offs to gain promotion to step 5 and the United Counties Premier Division North, and maintained this status with a solid mid table position in the 2023/24 season.

During the 2022/23/24 seasons the club expanded significantly with the introduction of a new reserves/ development team playing at step 8, plus the introduction of 10 new junior teams ranging from U7 to U18 age groups. Alongside this they continue to have a thriving academy for U6 players wanting to get in to junior football and develop the ongoing regeneration of the club.

From the 2023/24 season Belper United played their home matches at Coronation Park, Chewton Street, Eastwood, Nottinghamshire NG16 3HB via a ground share agreement with Eastwood CFC, and this will continue for the 24/25 and 25/26 seasons.

The club continues to work on a strategy to secure its own ground facility in the Belper area in partnership with AVBC, Derbyshire FA, The Football Foundation and local land owners/ developers - "Back to Belper".

Team Manager Alex Steadman

Hello everyone and welcome to Coronation Park for today's game against Kimberley Miners Welfare.

I'd like to welcome all of their players, officials and fans to Eastwood, and hope they have a safe journey back after the game, even if it's a very short one!

The games continue to arrive very quickly at this early stage of the season, with every team trying their hardest to win every point they can, with this group being no exception.

The victory at Deeping showed that, with the lads refusing to give up after the setback in the second half and getting a big reward from it.

It was also nice to get on the scoresheet myself of course, but I was just a little part of the puzzle that ultimately led to our success!

Printing deadlines mean that the game against Eastwood hasn't been played at the time of writing, but all I'll say is that it'd certainly be a treat to take something off of them with them as the visitors to their own ground, so let's see if we can do that.

Thanks for coming today, and let's hope we can keep up our strong start to the season!

Steady and the management team

United 2-2 Melton Town

Images by Mike Smith

Belper United began the season with a 2-2 draw against title favourites Melton Town at Coronation Park.

This draw gives the team the perfect platform to build from following a positive pre-season campaign, with the hope that they can be a competitive side being stronger than ever.

It would be the visitors who started off the stronger of the two teams, maintaining possession well before a good team move in the ninth minute allowed Will Norcross to score the game's opener with a powerful effort that left Joe Fryatt with little chance of a save in a real show of Melton's class.

Kairo Edwards-John would narrowly miss an open net not long after in an attempt to extend the visitors' lead, but this would soon be rectified in the 33rd minute, with the forward controlling the ball and getting the better of Kyle Bryant before hitting a curling shot to beat Fryatt and double Melton's advantage.

However, Bryant wouldn't be down for very long, leaping high following a Kemy Agustien corner in the 42nd minute to reduce the deficit right before half time, revitalising Belper and setting up an exciting second period.

The hosts came out for the second half looking like a completely different team to the one that had played the first 45 minutes, with them creating chances and making the highly touted visitors work for their own chances.

This fact yielded a big reward for Belper in the 61st minute after Tom Eccleshall managed to keep control of the ball in plenty of space before running down the wing and squaring it up to the waiting feet of Jack Thatcher, who did what he does best to tap the ball home with ease and level the game.

Eccleshall would almost give Belper the lead not much longer after this moment after he managed to unleash a promising effort at goal from a tough angle, but it could only be watched as it went just over the crossbar.

Both teams had their fair share of chances as the game slowly drew to a close, but neither of them could convert and get the all important winner, meaning that they simply had to settle with an exciting 2-2 draw, a good result on the balance of play and one that Belper will be delighted with as they get their season into motion.

The Untold Game

Die Mannschaft who Never Was

In the autumn of the year 2000, German football was in turmoil. It had been a decade since Franz Beckenbauer had overseen a World Cup victory, and the decade of dominance he had predicted for his powerful side had failed to materialise. Berti Vogts may have delivered an unlikely and, according to the German press, undeserved win at Euro '96, but a more fancied Germany side had lost the final four years earlier against Denmark, and he had failed to make it past the quarter-finals of the two World Cup campaigns he had overseen. At France '98, Croatia hadn't so much beaten them as dismantled them. Erich Ribbeck's uninspired showing at Euro 2000 - one point, one goal, and even a defeat to England - meant change was needed. And the first name out of that hat was Christoph Daum.

Daum had built a reputation as an overachiever. He started his career over a decade earlier at Koln, where he took over a weak and struggling side after spending time coaching the reserves. Standing out in his trademark bright tracksuit, and with innovative coaching methods that gave his players an edge (it was claimed they never even realised that they were tired), he took his rocketing up the table. In the 1986/7 season, they made a strong challenge for European football, before eventually dropping away. The following season would be even better, with Koln involved in a three-way title fight, losing out to Bayern - a perennial problem for Daum - and eventual champions Werder Bremen. They would finish runners up in the next two seasons, to a Bayern side that was just beginning to dominate German football. Toward the end of the 89/90 season, Koln reached the semi-final of the UEFA Cup, losing out to Italian powerhouses Juventus by the skin of their teeth. Everything looked bright, with a strong side to build on and a burgeoning reputation.

It was a surprise, then, when Daum was sacked in the off-season. No explanation was given for this departure, and the club have never really reached the heights he set. He started the season unemployed, but it wasn't long before Stuttgart made use of his talents.

Taking over the side in 15th,

Stuttgart began to run up the table. They opened the Daum era with a victory over his former club Koln, who they then lost to in the quarter-final of the German Cup. But momentum was with the side from southern Germany, and they pipped Daum's former charges to a European spot on the last day of the season. The following season, as Bayern fell apart horribly, Daum finally got his hands on the Bundesliga title. It was a remarkable turnaround for a club fighting relegation just 18 months earlier.

A strong showing the next year put them in Europe once again, but an administrative error against Leeds in the 93/94 Champions League would prove to be his downfall. He was sacked as Stuttgart were kicked out of the competition, and went to Turkey. At Besiktas, he won the domestic cup double in his first season, before winning the league in his second. But Turkish football is a cauldron of passion, and as Fenerbahce ran away with the title his his third year, he was dismissed once more.

He returned to Germany, this time with Leverkusen, relegation strugglers who he once again transformed. An unlikely title charge followed his appointment in 1996, once again thwarted by Bayern, and in 1998 he took his side to the Champions League quarter-finals. 1999 and 2000 saw similar second placed finishes, as the Bayern juggernaut proved unstoppable.

For Daum though, his reputation was seemingly unassailable. When Ribbeck was dismissed, he was the obvious candidate, and the DFB were even willing to wait a year for his Leverkusen contract to expire. And then Daum's long time rival, Bayern director Uli Hoeness, made a startling accusation. Daum was a cocaine addict, a habitual prostitute user, and possibly involved in extortion. This, claimed Hoeness, was the reason for his sudden Koln departure a decade earlier. The German job would wait until he had proved his innocence.

Daum responded in the strongest terms, denying the allegations and agreeing to drug testing. The entire nation held its breath while they waited for the results, and then the seemingly impossible happened. The tests came back positive. Sacked by Bayern, and with Die Mannschaft withdrawing his contract offer, he fled to Florida, before returning a year later to face the music.

Daum's tactical genius ensured that he continued to get work, but he could never escape the Daum-Affair that tarnished his career. Already peripatetic, he sought refuge away from the German spotlight, most notably back in Turkey. For Germany, who had a Daum-shaped hole to fill in their plans, it would take another decade and a half for them to finally return to winning ways, an eternity in German football. Ironically, the plans he had to take German football forward were still mostly adopted, and led to that unstoppable force under Joachim Low in 2014. But for Daum, he'll always be remembered for his mistake.

Enjoy the game.

Kimberley Miners Welfare FC

Kimberley Miners Welfare Football Club is a football club based in Kimberley, Nottinghamshire, England. They are currently members of the United Counties League Premier Division North and play at the Stag Ground.

HISTORY

The club was established in 1926, a year after the establishment of the Miners Welfare facility in the town. They joined the Notts Spartan League and were league champions in 1947–48. After winning back-to-back titles in 1964–65 and 1965–66, the club joined the Notts Combination, winning its Junior Cup in 1972–73. The club later joined the Notts Amateur League, which they won in 1985–86.

In 1995 Kimberley joined Division Two of the Notts Alliance. They won the division in 1996–97, earning promotion to Division One.

After winning Division One in 1999–2000 the club was promoted to the Senior Division. In 2005 they were founder members of the Notts Senior League and were placed in the Senior Division.

The division was later renamed the Premier Division, and after finishing as Premier Division runners-up in 2013–14, the club were promoted to the East Midlands Counties League.

They remained members of the league until it was disbanded at the end of the 2020–21 season, at which point they were transferred to Division One of the United Counties League. They were Division One champions in 2021–22 and were promoted to the Premier Division North.

GROUND

After their establishment, the club played at Mill Field until moving to Digby Street in 1932. The Digby Street ground was initially very basic, with players changing in the front room of a house some distance from the ground.

During the 1974–75 season the club played at the Wolsey Sports Ground whilst the A610 road was built, with part of Digby Street used during the road's construction. In 2012 the club moved to the Stag Ground, previously used by Kimberley Town.
